M'Carty (the real name) is not over thirty-six or thirty-eight years of age. His father, Charles M'Carty, came to this place over forty years ago, from some of the northern States, years ago, from some of the northern States, and here married an estimable lady, Miss susan Freaner. For some time before any after his marriage he was engaged in the manufacture of shoes, in which line he did a thriving business. This community proving too slow for him, he and his family migrated to Galveston, Fegas. There for a few years he (the father) followed the line of his business. Finally, becoming disgusted with it, he put his beach and 'kit' into a wheelbarrow and 'damped' it into Galveston bay, yowing he had made his last shoe. He then engaged in the business of auctioneering, at which he was entinen by successful, and about ounty. The position was a lagrative one, out M'Carty being of a genial and liberal appointion, at the time of his death, which decoursed shortly after the expiration of his berm of office, his family were left in but moderate circumstances. At the close of the war, Mrs. M'Carty and family removed to Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, where ahe oc-capied the position of matron at the young ladies' seminary at that place until her death, which occurred a few years later. William Charles M'Carty (the baptismal name of the adventurer) was a private in the Confederate army. He was there met by your correspondent, and he claimed no other position. His career since then in connection with the Texas land and copper company' bubble, by his defrauding, in the fall of 1877, the Span-igh minister at Washington out of twenty-live thousand dollars, are subjects of news-paper notoriety. Some three years since he spent the aummer in this place with his relatives, and shortly after his leaving became ery in New York, for which he was arrested, tried and acquitted. Conference Meeting of the Citizens Committee of Fifteen, Members of the Legislative Council and Shelby County Members of the Legislature, at the Cotton Exchange Last Night.

Committees Appointed to Draft a B and a Memorial, to be Presented to the Governor, and Asking that He Call an Extra Session of the Legislature.

At seven o'clock last evening at the cotton exchange; the proposed meeting took place between the c.t.zens* sanitary committee of fifteen, the members of the legislative counoil of the city and the members of the legis lature from Shelby county, for the purpose of securing co-operation in the adoption and perfecting of the plans of sewerage and genera sanitation recommended by the committee of experts of the National board of health, and rsed by the citizens' sanitary committee

The following named gentlemen were present at the conference: D. P. Hadden, Colonel A. S. Livermore, General Colton Greene, Judge C. W. Heiskell, Dr. D. T. Porter, president of the Taxing District, Mr. Joseph Lenow, Judge John M. Lea, of Nashville, John Gunn, John Johnson, John Loague, Captain J. Harvey Mathes, H. B. Packer, G. W. Mikae, General Luke E. Packer, G. W. M'Hae, General Luke E. Wright, W. P. Proudfit, Robert Galloway, R. D. Snowden, Dr. G. H. Thornton, Wm. R. Moore, F. S. Davis, W. B. Galbreath, and Mr. Brown, of the legislative council.
Mr. D. P. Hadden, as charman, briefly stated the object of the conference between the committee of fifteen and the gentleme of the legislative council and members of the legislature from Shelby county. The recom-mendations of the sanitarians of the Nationa board of health had met the approval of the citizens' committee of fitteen. The commit tee now proposed to seek from the city government and members of the legislature an indorsement of the plans proposed. Mr. Hadden read the resolution offered by Mr. Johnson, and adopted at a previous meeting by the citizens' committee of fifteen, as follows:

mittee as to the means of raising money to carry out the proposed plans of sanitation. Mr. Hadden declared the meeting open for the discussion of the sub-ject matter, and said that Judge Clapp assured hun that he favored the propositions Captain J. Harvey Mathes, member of the came to the meeting to hear and not to speak. He would like to hear from the city government. He heartily approved what the committee had done, and he believed the legislature when convened would grant all that was saled.

Dr. D. T. Porter made a few remarks, in lorsing the plans proposed.

Mr. John Loague said he came to hear and to learn the wishes of his fellow-citizens. As it to be his duty to obey instructions. Captain J. Harvey Mathes said: should act promptly in the matter. Should it he necessary, a canvass of the city could be made in a few days and a petition to the gov-ernor secured. He was satisfied with what had been done, and the committee had come as near crystallying public sentiment as any other set of men could have done. He believed that the representatives could unite in this matter as they had in other matters when at Nashville. He believed the public wanted practical measures carried out. The petition plan could be carried ou in a few days if deemed necessary."

Judge John M. Lea, of Nashville, said he favored calling the legislature together and ollecting the necessary tax. heart and soul; favored the two per cent. tax but did not believe it would be sufficient. He would pay the tax whenever the tax-gatherer called along, and he heard many other prop-erty-gwners say likewise. He believed that they ought to go to work immediately, or else we are ruined. Let us do all we can this winter. If the yellow-fever comes atterward, it will be a consolation to us to know that we have done our duty, and we can do no more.

Applause. | Mr. Brown believed in doing the work and favored the tax proposed. It was small, probably too small. Let us make the effort of money in running away to pave the entire city. He was willing to be taxed two, five or ten per cent., if necessary to do the work. [Applanse.] Of course there would be croakers, but the plans had been proposed by scientific men and he indorsed them heartily. He did not believe that the courts of the country would compel the new courts of the country would compet the new government to pay the debts of the old, or compet the people of Memphis to pay the old debt of the city. Many able hawyers differed from him as to that opinion, but should the courts so hold how could the people of Memphis pay it and also a two per cent, tax? Of course, the two per cent. tax was a burden; all taxes are so. But shall we sit down like fatalists, and wait for death to come and take us in, or will we pay the tax and save ourselves. raise money and get away from here. When they could do this, why cannot they raise money to pay a tax of two per cent. and save themselves and their homes? Public sentiment can be educated up to a point where it would be regarded as a crime to refuse to pay this tax. It we all could agree to pay the tax as well as we agree to get away from here when the troubles come, why the sewers would be built without much trouble or delay. We cannot hold the population of Memphis per-manently here so long as the great dread of yellow-fever hangs over them. We can do anything that we, the people, determine upon. [Applause.] Colonel Snowden indorsed the propositions in every respect.

Mr. R. Galloway, of the city government, indersed the propertion as it stood, and he would pay his tax. He opposed any more appointing of committees or getting up petitions. Let us go on and call upon the government. ernor to convene the legislature, secure the necessary aid and go on and do this work. Applause.]
Dr. G. B. Thornton, president of the city board of health, was committed to a system possible. Memphis needs sanitary reform in many particulars. He believed Memphis can be made the most attractive and healthiest city in the Mississippi valley by enforcing the necessary rules and laws of sanitation.

Chairman Hadden said the committee of fifteen had done its duly; he was willing to stand or fall by the report of the committee, and he believed the people of Memphis will be willing to stand or fall by that report as presented. We have had all the light that report as presented. We have had all the light that report as presented. We have had all the light that report as presented. We have had all the light that the late Ser scientists could cost upon the subject, and the plan has met with general indorsement; we must restore public confidence in Memphis or we are lost; we have already lost merchants, manufacturers, mechanics and laboring men and we must do something; there should be no such word as fail in this matter; the people are aroused on the subject, not only the men, but the women and children.

Mr. Wm. R. Moore thought they had talked enough. He believed the people were unanimous upon the subject. He believed the committee of fifteen fairly represented the energy of Memphie. He thought Judge Heiskell's resolution as to appointing a committee of five to draft a memorial, a good one, and he moved its adoption.

Mr. J. R. Goodwin briefly explained why the Organs of Respiration, and an absolute SPECIFIC FOR CONSUMPTION! THIS all-powerful vegetable preparation expels from the lungs and air passages, the mucus and muco-pus produced by pulmonary inflammation, heals the irritated membranes, and renovates every organ which utilizes the breath of Life. It contains no stupefying poison, and is in all respects a healthful medicine. The rapidity and certainty with which it

ANNIHILATES A COUGH Is astonishing. Its effects go deeper than the mere symptoms of pulmonary disease and discharges the cause from the system. Free and painless expectoration is the mode by which it relieves the lungs, chest and throat from the burdens which oppress them; thus arresting Consumption and Bronchitis in the germ before they reach the more dangerous stages. The emaciated sufferer

BATTLING FOR LIFE with the most terrible scourge of our cli-mate will find Fritsch's Prussian Cough Syrup a potent ally, and will assuredly win the fight by adhering strictly to this great medicine. The CASES NOW ON RECORD in which it has been administered with entire success as a remedy for every va-riety of malady which affects the Re-spiratory Functions, amount_to more than FIVE THOUSAND at the present date, and yet the preparation is only in the infancy of its usefulness. The great defect of all Cough Remedies hitherto introduced is that they are simply expulsory. Hence they are useless; for unless the causes of the acrid secretions which are coughed up are removed, and the ruptured, inflamed or maturated surfaces healed and restored to their natural tone, a cure is impossible. Fritsch's Prussian Cough Syrup accomplishes these objects. The mucus and muco-pus which are the consequence of Lung Disease, are thrown off by it, while at the same time it soothes and invigorates the weakened tissues.

"HIEE END THE HIMCO." "LIFE FOR THE LUNGS."

For coughs, colds, influenza, bronchial difficulties, tightness of the chest, boarseness, sore throat, trachitis, inflammation of the lungs, difficulty of breathing, pleurisy and all disorders of a pulmonary nature, it has never been equaled.
